Grange

GRANGE MEETING

Mattapoisett Grange will hold its bi-monthly meeting Thursday night, September 5th. Reports will be given for the year's activities by the chairmen. The youth of the Grange is in charge of the program with Mrs. Rebecca Downing and Miss Christine Bence in charge of refreshments. The Home and Community Service Committee that will serve in 1969 would like the members to bring in articles for a basket to be awarded at the September 19th meeting.

EVENING SERIES, AUGUST 28

On Wednesday, August 28th, the Mattapoisett Yacht Club held the final race in its August Senior Evening Series, with competition in three classes.

For the first time this season, the Shields Class, represented by 3 craft from the Massachusetts Maritime Academy, participated in the race.

The winner for the Shields was Columbia; for the Corinthians, Dr. Meymeris' Tishomingo; for the Beetle Cats, Sue McGowan's Hep Cat II.

Light northeast winds at 2-7 knots pre-

The Shields sailed a course starting in mid-harbor opposite Ned's Point to Gallatin Rock black can 3, to Angelica Point red nun 2, to finish mid-harbor opposite Ned's Point.

Columbia led the Massachusetts Maritime Academy entries around the course, followed by Challenge in second place and Cornelia, third.

The Corinthians, starting in mid-harbor opposite Ned's Point, sailed to Barstow Rock red nun 6, to Strawberry Point MYC guide buoy, to finish in mid-harbor opposite Ned's Point.

Jimmy Barnes, skippering Lulu, led during the first half of the course; then was overtaken by Billy Mee in Irish Eyes, as they neared Strawberry Point. On the last leg, the lead changed once again, this time with Dr. Meymeris' Tishomingo and N. Henderson's Tern out front. The final victor was Dr. Meymeris in Tishomingo, with

SENIOR SATURDAY RACE, AUGUST 31

Under sunny skies and gusty S-SW 20-mile winds, Mattapoissett Yacht Club held the last race in its August Saturday Senior Series on August 31st.

The Corinthians and Beetle Cats both sailed two races each.

S. Ruel, in Lulu, and Billy Mee, in Irish Eyes, split the honors for the Corinthians, and Sue McGowan in Hep Cat II, and Jimmy Barnes in Gay Lee Ann II, were the winners in the Beetle Cat division.

In the first Corinthian race, G. Henderson in Tern started off in the lead, followed closely by Dr. Meymeris' Tishomingo and Billy Mee's Irish Eyes. After the completion of the first leg, S. Ruel, in Lulu, who had worked up from a late leeward start, forged ahead to finish first. G. Henderson placed second; Billy Mee, third.

In the second Corinthian race, Billy Mee, skippering Irish Eyes, was the winner, followed by Art McLean's Demo, and Dr. Mey-

YOUR VOICE CAN HELP RUN AMERICA

Are you one of the millions of U. S. Citizens who has strong convictions about public issues . . . but has failed to make them heard where it counts?

Think your voice is too weak or insignificant to carry weight with government officials?

You're wrong. Reports from federal, state and local leaders reveal that their decisions are heavily influenced by the hundreds—and often thousands—of letters and telegrams they receive daily from constituents.

Did you ever stop to think how important these messages are to the democratic process?

Nearly 300 years ago, Thomas Jefferson stated: "The Basis of our government being the opinion of the people, the very first object should be to keep that right . . ."

Since "the people" means you, next time you're in a fighting mood . . . about Vietnam—pro or con—, the Presidential elections, crime, civil rights . . . don't pull your punches; put them into words and send them along to the government official concerned.

To make this as easy and economical as possible, Western Union offers a special service for your personal opinion messages called "POM" wires. For only 90 cents you can file a 15 word message at any Western Union office directly to the President, your Governor, your Senator, Congressman or State Legislators. Your signature and address will be carried free.

And, just in case you're a little hazy about who's who in government, your local Western Union office keeps a complete up-to-date list of legislators on file.

If you need more than 15 words you can send a fast telegram or a Night Letter which allows 50 words to start, can be charged to your phone bill and will be delivered the next morning.

In 1967, the public sent more than a million and a half opinion wires. Western Union officials predict a much higher number will be sent during this exciting election year.

Will one of them come from you?

meris' Tishomingo, in that order.

In the first Beetle Cat race, H. Pentleton, in Swamp Fox, held the lead until nearing the first marker, when he was overtaken by Sue McGowan and Jimmy Barnes. The race ended in that order: Sue McGowan in Hep Cat II, first; Jimmy Barnes in Gay Lee Ann II, second; and Harvey Pentleton, in Swamp Fox, third.

In the second Beetle Cat race, Andy Anderson, in Boat, and Jimmy Barnes, in Gay Lee Ann II, taking a chance on a port tack start, jumped into a quick lead over the other boats which had started on a starboard tack. Jimmy Barnes rounded the first marker ahead of A. Anderson, with H. Pentleton, third. From then on, Jimmy Barnes continued to build up a commanding lead to cross the finish line first. Sue McGowan, in Hep Cat II, placed second. H. Pentleton's Swamp Fox came in third.

 MENSWEAR"
 FOR FALL '68

NEW YORK (ED)-Action-packed, color-sparked American-designed "wool mark" sportswear darts straight into the fashion bullseye for Fall '68 with performance a key factor and styling in high gear.

Contemporary architectural lines applied to tailoring lend a meticulous custom look and fit to supple, flight-weight "wool mark" quality tropical worsteds; bravado tweeds in Donegal, crosscut, herringbone and buckshot varieties; deeply ribbed or fine wale twills; gabardines; saxonies; worsted shetlands and smooth, close-cropped coverts.

Texture and pattern interest abounds in new, "country suits," sportcoats, slacks, and knitwear boldly struck by large, brushed plaids in tartan, Mackinaw and blanket-styled designs.

Earth-born neutrals of wheat, clay, pumpkin, putty, tree-bark gray or white are combined, for contrast-interest, with shades of russet, burnished gold, heathered bronze-green, deepened red and brightened blue.

Quality in menswear remains the name of the game and the leading consumer-bound emblem in the field remains the "wool mark" — an internationally established quality-control insignia signifying that fashions carrying the sewn-in "wool mark" label or hangtag have been tested and approved by the Wool Bureau as "the world's best . . . pure virgin wool."

working system of government ever to exist in the history of mankind. No American is denied the right of protest. A letter to a newspaper, a letter to a Congressman, a petition to the legislature, these are the legitimate and the powerful ways that a self-governing people change the course of policy and law. Now, a policy of deliberate encouragement to a violent and destructive element of society brought about by political expediency, has brought this country to the brink of anarchy. This permissive benevolence to the thug has turned the streets of the nation into a bloody battleground. Every public occasion is now the excuse for a disgraceful riot which begins as a "protest march". The scene of a political convention being destroyed by the very people it has encouraged would be simple justice if it weren't for the fact that, if this

TEACHERS AT CHURCH SCHOOL

The Mattapoisett Congregational Church is making an appeal for interested persons willing to serve as teachers and/or substitutes for the coming school year. The Christian Education Committee has been unable to find people who will teach the youth. As of this time, certain classes will have to be closed for lack of adult leadership. Classes from grades five through nine are the ones that are in need. Interested persons should call Mrs. David Goodenough at 8-2136, or Mr. Charles Tate at 8-6563. On September 9th at 8 P.M. a coffee hour and faculty meeting will be held in the fellowship room. Anyone interested in the workings of the church school, as well as the regular teaching staff, is welcome to attend.

Back in the days before seamen could tune in their radio receivers to get weather forecasts, any tar worth his salt could tell by the old rhyme, "Rainbow in the morning, sailors take warning/ Rainbow at night, sailors delight".

thing from sea monsters to sailing out too far and dropping off the edge of the earth.

That's just one of many bits of lore and legend that have grown up during the thousands of years since man set himself afloat.

Ancient Greek sailors believed that ships were wrecked upon the rocks when their crews were lured by the beautiful music of mythological songstresses, or Sirens.

These legendary Sirens weren't the only women thought to imperil ships. So far as most salts are concerned, lady luck is unlucky especially if the lady is on board ship. This feeling probably goes back to the days when sailors hated to sign with a ship that carried the captain's wife, because they feared that she'd countermand orders and find fault with the crew. This led to the belief that a ship on which a woman traveled would have a longer journey than usual, run out of provisions or encounter other trouble.

To sailors, a cat is also bad luck. Almost every move she makes is ominous. If she meows at night, she's summoning a tempest, and if she howls or cries at any time, she's calling on witches to do their mischief.

The sight of rats leaving a ship is enough to strike fear into the heart of even the boldest sea dog--for it's long been thought that these animals have psychic powers that enable them to know that a ship's in danger long before its crew does. Rats do leave a sinking ship, but it's probably merely because they have an easier time swimming for it than their hapless fellow passengers. In fact, they'll even leave a poverty-stricken vessel which can no longer support them properly and go in search of better lodgings!

One animal that sailors did like to have on board in days gone by, surprisingly, was a pig--for it was believed to have special powers that enabled it to see the wind.

While sealore is fascinating, no less exciting are some of the true tales of the sea. To revive interest in the action-packed early days of American sailing, Shulton, Inc., whose Old Spice line is known round the world by the familiar ship on a bottle, is producing a model fleet of ships to be shown throughout the United States. The vessels reproduced include "The Friendship" and "The Essex", which saw action during the War of 1812... "The America," the largest, fastest he'd round the Cape during a storm or be cursed, and now he and his crew of dead men are condemned to sail the seas forever.

The "Flying Dutchman" may be a famous bit of seafaring fiction, but another ship, its crew and passengers became the subject of a true story. The "Mary Celeste" sailed from New York for Genoa in 1872, but a month later she was found floundering helplessly 400 miles off the Azores. The ship's log was still open in the mate's cabin, and most of the cargo was intact, although there were more than three feet of water in the hold. The ship's one life boat, crew members and two passengers were missing. For over 90 years, the fate of the crew and passengers of the "Mary Celeste" has remained a mystery. Theories range from mutiny and murder to the sudden appearance of an island from

This moving spit of sand, which often can't be seen on a cloudy day, is called the "Graveyard of the Atlantic". Since its discovery some 450 years ago, it has trapped and destroyed at least 500 ships and claimed 10,000 lives. More than $2 million in gold is still believed hidden in ships' strong boxes scattered in the sand and surf. The ghostly inhabitants of the island are said to include two 17th-century characters--a French nobleman, banished by his king, and an Englishman who goes about singing psalms!

So the next time you take an ocean voyage or walk along the seashore, if you see a ghostly galleon, or hear a crusty, "Ship ahoy, mates!" when you look at a ship on a bottle--it may not be just your imagination.

Street Extension were planted there early this summer and carefully tended by some of the women of the Mattapoisett Woman's Club. The petunias and dahlias are now in full bloom and present to the townspeople and to the traveler on his way through Mattapoisett a pleasing picture - a splash of color in an unexpected spot.

The extra bit of thought and work that has gone into this garden is appreciated by those of us who drive by there frequently; and possibly this project and another one handled by the Woman's Club, that of filling and tending the window boxes at the Post Office, will inspire other local organizations to do something similar in other parts of our town.

GUEST IN MATTAPOISETT

Mrs. Mary Lee of Framingham was the overnight guest of Mr. and Mrs. Lemuel LeBaron of Water Street, Mattapoisett last Friday night. Mrs. Lee served as Junior Deputy with Mrs. LeBaron when she was Junior Superintendent for the Massachusetts State Grange.

A THANK YOU

Mr. Raymond Winslow of Aucoot Road, Mattapoisett was very pleased to be remembered and wants to thank everyone who sent cards during his illness at Davis Park Hospital. He is now at home and will return on the 17th to the hospital for 2 or 3 days for a check-up. He is reported making very good progress in his convalescence.

An articulate clarity of outline and distinctiveness of detail in transeasonal "wool mark" and "Naked Wool" designs is counter-balanced by new mix-master-minded combinations of fabric and a precise, meaningful interplay of pattern-on-pattern.

The "wool mark" - an internationally established quality control emblem - is a consumer assurance that fashions bearing the sewn-in "wool mark" label or hangtag have been tested and approved by the Wool Bureau

FACTS ABOUT CRIME PREVENTION

1. Police call boxes should be left open, and clearly marked.
2. Cities should have a single police emergency phone number.
3. Strict gun control laws should be passed in high-crime areas.
4. Better salaries and benefits would attract highly qualified lawmen.
5. Keep valuables in a safe deposit box.
6. Use pick-resistant locks, such as Yale pin-tumbler cylinder locks, on all outside entrances. Yale window locks give added security, and can be locked even with the window slightly opened at night.
7. Notify police and a neighbor when you go on a vacation, and never let mail and milk bottles accumulate outside while you're away.
8. Never leave a key in an obvious place - like under the doormat or in the mail box.
9. Remove ignition keys when leaving your car - even if for a few minutes. When parking for awhile, put valuables in the trunk and lock the car with windows rolled all the way up.
10. Always check references of any household help you hire.

How to reduce oil heat costs

OUR COMPREHENSIVE BURNER SERVICE CONTRACT helps guard you against heating worries. And it can lower heating costs these three important ways:

1. By making sure your burner is cleaned and adjusted for peak efficiency—to help give you maximum heat from every gallon of fuel.

2. By catching little troubles before they can become big ones. A small adjustment or repair now may save you many dollars later on.

3. By insuring you against unexpected repair bills. This makes sure you always get heat.

Exercises of texture, depth and dimension in wool fabric construction are repeated in pattern interest as well, with pronounced accents on haberdashery stripes streaking off in all directions, tattersall or star-checked chicanery, and color-powered, bias-played plaids in bold blanket-sizes, softened Tartan editions, Argyle, giant houndstooth, windowpane, parquet and tic-tac-toe translations.

Printed wools loom artfully on the fall horizon in neo-hieroglyphic patterning, kaleidoscopic stained-glass effects, modern abstracts, small florals and foulard-inspired designs.

Colors are as clear to the eye as sounds of the Baja Marimba Band are to the ear, with brisk shades of sapphire, emerald, amethyst, pumpkin, lacquer red and yellow contrasted to the dominant neutrals in tones of champagne, oyster, ecru, caramel, bitter chocolate, mushroom, putty, steel gray or black.

A new fluency of movement lends rhythm to design as inescapably feminine silhouettes are gently emphasized by graceful, body-shaping fabrics and subtly inset or bravado-belted waistlines.

"Softness" - the fashion statement for texture, depth, dimension and silhouette in the fall-winter of '68 - is, at once, interpretive, definitive, decisive - and "The UnequivoCalifornia Wools" will say it all.

FALL

Fall is fickle.
Days flash hot
then cold; earth turns from green to gold .
Jantzen took the colors of autumn in the country, fashioned them into a snugly jacquard pullover and a brightly plaided skirt: Candy apple, Indian turquoise, goldenrod, moss ...
all in combinations with "cholive"
a new neutral color blending charcoal and olive. Flying Wedge pullover, shoulder buttoned, sizes 34 to 40 $22
Cholive Plaid A-line skirt
(100% wool) two side pockets,
8-16 $16
